New Suits.

Charles A. Thayer vs. Chris. Young; assumpsit.
The People vs. Judson Dyer Jr.; larceny.

AN INCIDENT OF A BATTLE.—Col. C. W. Dean of Dayton, O., had the peculiar and serious experience of being sunstruck while engaged in the battle before Port Hudson, La., June 14, 1863. As a result from that time until last June he had a continual distracting pain in his head and weak spells, which compelled him for many years to give up everything of an active character. He was obliged to stay indoors, and could not even walk across the street. Last June he began using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills, and is now completely cured.

Michigan Building World's Columbian Exposition.

HILLSDALE, Mich., Nov. 19, 1892. To the Lady Managers of Michigan: We take this method of calling your attention to the Michigan Building, located at the intersection of two of the finest avenues in Jackson Park. This building is rapidly nearing completion and is a structure of which you will all feel proud. It is large and comfortable, conveniently arranged and stands in a group with our sister States, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin.

The Michigan Building has 400 feet of veranda, 12 feet wide, and contains in addition to the corridor, the Secretary's office, bureau of information, check room, postoffice and news office, gentlemen's reception room 35x41, gentlemen's reading room 25x35, barber shop, ladies' parlor 32x43, ladies' reading room 11x20, ladies' retiring room 21x23, and toilet rooms. The rooms will be heated when necessary by four large grates. This floor is intended as a place of comfort and convenience for Michigan people while attending the Exposition.

The second floor also has 400 feet of veranda, 12 feet wide, and in addition to the grand hall, 48x61, it has an exhibition room 32x76, in which will be placed unclassified State exhibits of private collections, etc., a large assembly hall 34x61, and committee room 14x44.

The third floor includes rooms for employees. The exterior will be painted light granite with white trimmings. The beautiful and inviting interior of the building depends much upon the women of the State, and we appeal to every local committee of women, appointed by authority of the Board of World's Fair Managers for Michigan, to unite with us in earnest effort to raise money for this purpose. This is the only purpose for which we have or will solicit contributions of money, and we have an abiding faith in the disposition and ability of our Local Lady Managers to aid us according to the population and wealth of their respective counties.

Every citizen of Michigan will take pride in our State building and desire to see it complete favorably with State buildings around us. For this reason we do not specify the amount for each county to raise, confidently believing that all will make prompt and generous response upon an occasion of so much importance, and for the ultimate success of an object in which we are all interested and which we hope to enjoy together at the World's Columbian Exposition in 1893. In affairs of public enterprise we have never known Michigan women to fail. We feel sure of their cordial co-operation now. The time is short and we must work diligently in order to have the furnishing of our building complete and in readiness for the reception of guests on the 1st of May.

Chairmen are requested to appoint additional members to their committees, and also to appoint sub-committees in such numbers, at such times and in such localities, as will, in their judgment, serve to expedite business and promote the prosperity of the work.

Contributions of money will be promptly acknowledged by receipt for amount received.

Correspondence relative to the above may be addressed to

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlin's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave her the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine." CHARLES A. THOMPSON, Des Moines, Iowa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Longwell Bros. Paw Paw, and J. F. Barrows, Lawrence. Nov.

Our Business Houses.

At Munger's can always be found the purest of groceries and the freshest of vegetables, fruit, butter, eggs, etc.

W. R. Sellick & Co. are always in the van with the latest and best in the several lines of goods handled by them.

J. G. Garvin's shops present a busy spectacle at this season—every department being rushed to its utmost capacity.

"The Leaders" are closing out an immense stock of goods at actual cost, which fact is attracting throngs of purchasers.

Shaefer, at his "ground floor gallery," is executing some very fine work—his crayon portraits being especially excellent.

G. H. Waters & Co. are headquarters for stoves of all kinds, but are making a special plunge on a famous "oil heater".

Fred Bilsborrow informs us that his trade in heating stoves is exceptionally heavy. He carries a large stock of the best makes on the market.

Everybody goes to J. C. Warner's, not only for groceries and provisions, but for that "water white oil" and stove gasoline, which he sells at 10 cents.

Wise & Tuckey are having an immense trade in their celebrated "Pearl" and "Patent" brands of flour, and as custom millers they are very popular.

H. W. Showerman has already been compelled to duplicate his early November orders for heavy suits and overcoats. His trade has been immense.

Chappell is carrying one of the finest stock of goods in his several lines ever offered in Paw Paw, and his proverbial fair dealing brings him flocks of customers.

E. G. Butler & Co. pursue the even tenor of their way, always keeping their store well stocked with fresh and pure groceries, and their prices are as low as the lowest.

At the Wolverine Pharmacy may be found at all times elegant lines of toilet articles, fancy goods, albums, smokers' goods, etc., besides the regular stock of a first-class drug house.

When they order clothing for Capt. Smith's "Long Brick," they figure out how many car-loads will be needed to carry them to next order day, and thus they keep things humming.

The word "Complete" exactly expresses the condition of the stock at Avery's famous Star Dry Goods store. Attentive clerks, bed-rock prices and good goods are drawing cards.

Goodale is selling many of those elegant bedroom suits, and it "keeps him guessing" to keep his stock full and complete, but he has a "pull" on several manufactories, which helps him out.

The hot-air furnaces manufactured by Snow Bros. is rapidly growing in favor until it has come to be considered a necessary attachment to every well-regulated home, combining comfort, economy and convenience. Chas. Harper of Lawton has just ordered one.

A hack war in Grand Rapids has reduced prices to 10 cents to and from the depots.

The old Third Michigan infantry will hold a reunion at Grand Rapids on Wednesday, December 14.

The father of the late Gen. George A. Custer died at his home in Monroe, last week, at the advanced age of 83 years.

Sheriff McQueen, of Kent county, spent $1,125 in trying to secure reelection. He wishes now he had his money back.

Some 85,000 bushels of potatoes were shipped from Hart during the present month. It required 107 cars to move them.

Younans spent $2382 and was defeated for Congress in the Saginaw district. It cost Linton but $1595 to make a winning run.

A. P. Waldo, postmaster at Masonville, Delta county, has resigned, and recommended Mrs. Jennie Reynolds as his successor.

Flat Rock people are excited because burglars have taken up their abode in that quiet village and make nightly raids on their cellars.

Ludwig Schirer, editor of the Port Huron Herald, died at his home in that city on Sunday morning. He leaves a widow and two children.

J. C. Farrell, a farmer near Ovid, raised 596 bushels of potatoes from a trifle less than three acres of land. He sold his crop for 50 cents per bushel.

Adrian is to have a new daily this week, the Evening Telegram. Nate Redfield, late of the Times, will handle the quill, and E. E. Putnam the cash.

Dr. Scott, the venerable father-in-law of President Harrison, is very low. Telegrams have been sent to members of the family residing outside the city.

State Treasurer-elect Hamblitz's staff will be C. E. Baxter, deputy; Perry J. Davis, cashier; W. J. Evans, bookkeeper. No chief clerk has yet been appointed.

A Washington telegram of yesterday says: James G. Blaine is doing nicely. He was up again to-day and moving about the room. His friends are very much pleased at his condition.

An ax handle factory at Lapeer has absorbed all the hickory in that locality and has a buyer going through the adjacent counties buying all that class of wood he can find and shipping to them.

A Quick and Easy Way.

Even the poor beggars who get a few cents for passing out "dodgers" to the unwilling passersby have their ways for "beating the boss." One of the forlorn ones was seen in a cross seat in an L car last night distributing his bundle of "dodgers" in blocks of five every thirty seconds—out of the window. If his employer should grow suspicious he could take him up the west side of Third avenue and show him his circulars lining the curb—where of course they had been dropped by the passersby after reading. —New York Times.

Paw Paw, Nov. 7.—Snow Bros., Gents: I can cheerfully recommend your Furnaces. The No. 6 which you placed in my house one year ago warms my house to my entire satisfaction. It distributes the heated air evenly all through the house; keeps fire all right with perfect ease; is easily handled and economical, and in fact a perfect heater. Yours truly, GEO. W. LONGWELL.
